TIPS FOR YOUR FIRST DAY ON THE JOB

Confirm when and where you should arrive and to whom you should report. Show up on time.

Dress professionally— even casual dress doesn't mean anything goes. No worn jeans, micro-minis, flip-flops, etc.

Bring important information for insurance forms, withholdings, 401k, etc.

Get connected—make sure mail, phone, email, & computers get connected.

Introduce yourself to those in the office; make an effort to get a cup of coffee, or lunch with co-workers who can show you the ropes.

Get on the routing list for reports, mail, etc.

Learn names of co-workers and administrative staff as soon as possible.

Review company information, policies, and guidelines—ask about any unwritten rules.

Make sure to review the immediate goals and expectations of your supervisor/manager. How will you be measured? What the mid-term and long-term goals are. What defines success?

If your job entails customers, be sure that an announcement has been sent to customers. Introduce yourself.

Learn the specifics of your job—get up to speed as fast as possible.

Come prepared to make an impact and get something done—try to be productive as soon as you can.
